CHILD MET TRAGIC DEATH YESTERDAY

Little Tots Skull Crushed By Refrigerator

John Paulina, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Paulina, was instantly killed while at play at the home of his parents 288 Rostraver street last evening. The lad, with a number of other playmates, was in the kitchen of the home, the mother being in another part of the house. A swing was made with the use of a rug, tied from one end of the door to a refrigerator, standing nearby.

The little Paulina boy was given first choice in the rudely arranged swing and had just taken his seat when the weight of his body overturned the huge refrigerator, which fell directly upon the child. The baby was caught beneath the refrigerator and the other children being unable to lift it called loudly for help. The mother hearing the screams of the children, rushed from another room and quickly raised the heavy ice box from over the child.

Tenderly picking him up it was discovered that the weight of the refrigerator had been sufficient to crush the skull and life was extinct. The grief strucken mother clasped the child to her breast and called for help and neighbors rushing in found that the services of a physician were not necessary as death had been instantaneous.

The funeral will be held tomorrow from the Greek Catholic church with interment in the Grandview cemetery.

Raid Gambling Dens

Donora police are actively engaged in a campaign to break up numerous gambling dens within the borough limits that have been operating in defiance of the law recently. A score of small shops, pool rooms and private homes have been turned into gambling joints in the town and are conducted by men who make a living from the rakeoff taken from the players. Numerous raids have been conducted by the police and many old offenders have fallen into the net but after putting up bail have returned to their old haunts, and are reported doing a thriving business.

At 2:30 this morning a raid was conducted on the Palace pool room, which is under the management of John Palchak. Fifteen well known young men of the town were found in the room "shooting craps" and they were taken to the police station and after giving ficticious names, deposited $5.00 for their appearance before the Burgess this evening. The proprietor will be held for court on a charge of conducting a gambling den.

Following the raid the police visited the aparatments above a coffee house and pool room at 753 McKean avenue and placed eleven men under arrest. They were playing a dice game on a huge table made for the purpose. The rooms were fitted up for gambling and signal lights were operated to notify the approach of officers, but the raid was completed so quickly that no opportunity was given to sound an alarm. The proprietor of this place, Mike Zervos, was arrested before on a similar charge and is out on parole at the present time.

Planning Attack

By WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Aug 26—With the Anglo-Italian ultimation to Russia scheduled to expire tomorrow evening, unconfirmed reports were circulated here today, that the Bolsheviki were planning to attack British possessions in the east.

The Pall Mall Gazette said it had learned from authoritative scources that Moscow had ordered Leo Kameneff, Bolshevik trade commissioner, to leave London even before expiration of the time limit set in the Balfour note. Kameneff was credited with saying that his departure would be equivalent to a declaration of war against Great Britian.

Military experts confirmed the strategic soundness of the rumored Red plan for an attack against British Eastern possessions, pointing out that the best defense against an entente drive from the west would be invasion of India. They also held that by shortening their western lines, the Bolsheviki could make their western front immeasurably stronger.

There was no important change in the military situation on the Russo-Polish front. The Poles were still rounding up prisoners north of Warsaw, and had practically cleared Polish territory of the Reds, save for the regions west of Grodno and east of Lemberg.

Lynch Negro

(By United Press)

Burlington, N. C., Aug. 26—John Jeffries, negro, aged 19 was lynched near Graham last night for an assault on Mary Rudd, a six year old white girl.

Start Drive Today

The local charity board has started a big drive for funds to take care of the community's destitute and a generous response is urged. The committees are out today and will continue until the entire town is solicited. The first check was received at the headquarters today from the Musical Auxiliary of the Woman's Club and the check was received with thanks and in time to give renewed energy and inspiration to the committees.

There are at the present time more than twenty families entirely dependent upon charity and in these homes there are a number of small children, the bread winner either having been removed by death or having deserted the family. Some of the children have barely food enough to keep from starving and they are barfooted and in tatters.

The committee is entirely out of funds and there is no way out except through the mercy of the more fortunate. When the committee gets out in the field there should be no faltering or falling back, or arguments pro or con. People should give what they feel able to give and do so with the knowledge that the money is being utilized in the proper way and through the proper channels.

Parole Prisoners

Clyde Sheets, Carl Carlson and Martin Gargan of Fayette City, who pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the Hawker pool room and store with intent to commit a felony were paroled for a period of two years. Sheets was sentenced to the Allegheny workhouse for two years, but pending the execution was placed under parole with binding instructions to pay his minor child $5 per week for its keep, abstain from the use of liquor, live as decent and law abiding citizens, abide by the terms of an industrial certificate, attend Sunday school regularly and ordered to stay out of the borough of Fayette City or two miles of the border of the borough during the period of his parole and report the first Monday of each month to the parole officer.

Carlsen and Gragan were each ordered to comply with the terms of an industrial certificate, live as decent and law abiding citizens, Carlson to attend Sunday school regularly and Gargan to attend mass regularly, making a report of same to the parole officers the first Monday of each month and each to pay the costs in the case.

Cox in Pittsburgh

By HERBERT WALKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 26—En-route with Gov. J. M. Cox to Pittsburgh.)—With an air of confidence, Gov. J. M. Cox today sped across Indiana and Ohio, announcing his intention of proving his charge that a $15,000,000 fund is sought to elect W. G. Harding to the presidency. He promised to make good his allegation in the Republican stronghold of Pittsburgh.

Political leaders encountered here admitted the whole trend of the presidential battle may turn on the governor's scheduled "expose"—his answer to the Senate investigating committee's demand for information to support his charges.

RIGHT OF WOMEN TO THE BALLOT IS MADE A PART OF UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 26.—The right of women to the ballot was formally made a part of the constitution of the United States today when Secretary of State Colby proclaimed ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment. Colby announced the proclamation upon his arrival at his office this morning, having signed it at his home. The official notice that the 36th state to ratify the amendment was taken to him recently and despite the efforts of the anti-suffragists to keep the vote from women all legal technicalities were overcome and the ratification is now a reality and the women of the United States will cast their first ballot at the November election providing they have complied with the election laws.

The local assessors received their instructions to register the women voters, from the county commissioners, and they are on the job this morning, taking for granted that the action of the Anti-Suffragists in Tennessee would not operate to prevent women from enjoying the right to vote in November.

"Don't trouble to ask the women embarrassing questions," the instructions to the assessors stated. "The assurance that a woman is 21 years of age or more is sufficient, thereupon to register her.

"Begin a house to house canvas at once," the instructions continued, "and as far as possible complete the same in the time left. Register women only in this separate book, under various occupations such as housewife, clerk, teacher, stenographer, etc., all to be an occupation valuation of $50 for this year with a county tax of 40 cents per capita."

The assessors were instructed that they might use volunteers to assist them in the work of making the canvass.

Women who may not be registered in the canvass will have a last chance to get registered on the 31st of August and the first of September when the assessors will sit at the respective polling places.

The 40 cents tax must be paid before the first of October.

Women who may become 21 on or before the second of November will be entitled to vote "on age" whether they have registered or have paid a tax or not. All women over 21, however, must be registered and must be able to show a tax receipt in order to make sure of getting a vote.

Republicans of This County Off For Marion This Evening

Tonight a special train will leave Jeannette for Pittsburgh and thence to Marion, Ohio, carrying about two hundred prominent citizens of Westmoreland county and ardent Harding supporters, the object being to pay their respects to the Republican nominee. Jesse Hancock, treasurer of the county will accompany the Greensburg delegation and will likely be the only Monessen man in the party. Tomorrow will be Westmoreland county day in Marion. A committee of the town will meet the train and escort the delegation to the Harding headquarters, where the nominee will deliver an address. A brass band will furnish music for the occasion.

One of the most active and aggressive Republican campaigns ever waged in Westmoreland county is now in full swing. Headed by that ever loyal and untiring worker Eddie Cremer as county chairman, a big Republican vote will be the result showing an overwhelming victory for Harding and Coolidge. A. M. Wyant for congress and the full slate of party candidates.

The following letter is being sent out broadcast to the voters:

My Dear Sir:—

Your name has been suggested for membership on the Vigilance Committee in your district. Because of your fidelity to the principles of the Republican party and your loyalty to its candidates, you have been selected for active work in the campaign upon which we have entered.

An important, and at the same time, a pleasant duty is in prospect for you. We are in the midst of one of the most momentous presidential campaigns in the history of the Nation. By it will be determined whether the affairs of this great Republic will be administered according to the autocratic methods that have prevailed for more than seven years, or whether there shall be a return to a truly representative popular government. We have had a costly example of one man trying to run the affairs of state, and the Republican party has pledged itself to a restoration of the form of government contemplated in the Constitution. A Republican administration will not advocate that we surrender our rights to a world council and its military alliance or that we be shackled by a compact that will force us to become a party to the intrigues of European politics.

To assist the party in making good its pledges you are called to service. We believe that the Republican party should be intrusted with the administration of national affairs. We feel certain that you share this belief with us, and we will expect you to use your influence among your friends and neighbors in behalf of every candidate on the ticket. It is important that Pennsylvania return a Republican to the United States Senate and that the Butler-Westmoreland district elect a Republican to Congress; equally important is it that a Republican delegation represent Westmoreland county in the General Assembly of our Commonwealth, ever before has the party confronted such a uniformly good ticket. Every candidate on it deserves the united support of the party.

The members of the County Committee have devoted themselves to a campaign of enthusiasm and personal usefulness. Will you not enter into the campaign in the same spirit so that you will share fully in the glory which will be ours?

Very cordially yours,
Edward A. Cremer,
Chairman.

NOTICE MOOSE

There will be a meeting at the Moose club Friday evening of all members desirous of assisting the regular committee in preparation for the Moose picnic. Please report at 8 o'clock. 1tfp Kiss.

Large Crowd Enjoys Dance Last Night

One hundred and sixty-five couples the largest crowd ever attending a club dance at Eldora park, was on the pavilion last evening for the Kriterion Klub's second summer dance, and enjoyed a pleasant evening doing the light fantastic to the strains of excellent music furnished by the Mason-Dixon Seven. Practically every town in the valley was represented, while others came from Washington and West Newton. The program started shortly after nine o'clock and twelve dancing numbers were played, the orchestra responding to many encores for each number.

The music, as was expected, excelled anything ever heard in this vicinity before and in addition to furnishing the dance music the members of the orchestra entertained with acrobatic stunts, shimmey dancing and vocal numbers. Dressed in their natty black and white uniforms the seven young men comprising the orchestra, made a neat appearance and their renditions of popular jazz stamped them as leading exponents of dance music of the better kind.

Owing to the fact that they have accepted a lengthy engagement on the Keith circuit n Brooklyn and New York, is is not known just when they will return to tais vicinity but the Kriterion Klub expects to have them here for an engagement during the winter season. Special cars conveyed the guests to the surrounding towns following the dance, but a majority of those present made the trip to and from the park by auto.

Ready for Outing

Everything is in readiness for the outing of the Loyal Order of Moose, their families and friends, to be held at Eldora park Saturday and only fair weather is needed to make the affair a complete success. The various committees have left nothing undone towards the comfort and pleasure of their guests for the day and there promises to be something doing from early morning until late at night. The corn roast at the noon hour, along with the big basket picnic will be an event of interest to all and at two o'clock the athletic committee composed of J. J. Cushing, W. H. Moore, E. A. Wells and Digger Stanley will take charge of affairs and stage a number of races for men and women with suitable prizes for the winners in each event. This program will start at two o'clock and at four o'clock drill teams of the various lodges in the valley will compete for a large American flag.

At 4:45 a boxing program of five events will be staged bringing together Steve Carter and Willard Latchem in the main bout, Eddie Borland and Young Sullivan in the semi-final and Young Humphries and Whitey Morres, Art Leclair and Young Jieren and Johnny Morgan and Leo Roman.

During the athletic program the dancing pavilion will be open and those who wish to trip to the light fantastic can enjoy themselves with Jenkins orchestra furnishing the music.

Looks Don't Count

Dr. Frank R. Zahnizer, of Greensburg, is said to resemble Governor Cox so closely that wherever he goes he is being mistaken for the Democratic nominee. On Sunday, when he boarded a train at Cleveland, he noticed that unusual deference was being paid him on every hand, lasting until the conductor of the train, approaching him, inquired, "Beg pardon sir, but do I not have the honor of addressing Governor Cox?" The doctor enlightened the ticket puncher and immediately, the atmosphere of the car changed—the doctor became just one of the multitude. Dr. Zahnizer says that he may look like Governor Cox, but that he is going to vote for Senator Harding, nevertheless.

No Moral Support

The Rev. F. J. Stinson, announcing his resignation yesterday as pastor of the First Christian church, McKeesport, gave "lack of spiritual and moral support" as his reason. His resignation was a surprise to the congregation. Mr. Stinson said he had nothing in view, but might quit the ministry. Officers of the church failed to approve several enterprises proposed by the minister, he said. The McKeesport church, to which Mr. Stinson came five years ago from Brazil, Ind., is said to have gained in membership and finances during his pastorate.

Cleveland, Aug. 26—"This time I'm going to kiss him goodbye," declared Mrs. Mary Kiss, when she filed suit for divorce for the second time within the year from her husband, John Kiss.

Won't Alter Armistice

(By United Press)

London, Aug. 26.—The Russians have so far refused to alter their armistice terms to Poland, it was learned today, despite their recent defeats. Bolsheviki troops continue to pour over the border of East Prussia, the prisners totaling over 60,000 being composed of many Germans and Hungarians. According to a dispatch to the Matin, the Polish forces have occupied Gordno and the Bolsheviki have evacuated Vilna, which is now occupied by Lithuanian troops.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—The Polish armies, while still driving the Russians before them, are facing a serious shortage in ammunition, according to semi-official advices received here today.

This situation, it was believed, would afford the Reds an opportunity to re-form their shattered units and make a determined stand along the tentative Russo-Polish frontier.

At the same time it was learned the Bolsheviki are preparing a new defensive line along the river Niemen, which flows northwestward through Grodno.

Twenty thousand Russians, cut off north of Warsaw, have crossed the boundary into East Prussia.

Identify Body

(By United Press)

New York, Aug. 26.—A new identification was made today of the body of the young woman found murdered in a thicket n the New Jersey Palisades, just across the Hudson river from Riverside Drive, late yesterday. Police headquarters at Hackensack, N. J., announced the remains had been identified as those of Mrs. Blanch Schultz, 21, of New York. A sister Mrs. Clara Winner, Keyport, N. J., was said to have made the identification.

The sister also stated, according to the police, that five diamond rings and several hundred dollars which Mrs. Schultz had with her when she left home last Sunday, were missing.

Detectives were inclined to believe the woman had been killed as she rode in an automobile, and her body dragged to the thicket where it was found. The identification, however, was not accepted as absolute in view of the fact that the body last night was partially identified as that of Helen Hermann, 29, a manicurist, and later this was denied.

To Hold Charity Ball

The daughters of Isabella of Monessen and Donora are making great preparations for their initial Charity Ball to be held at Eldora park Friday evening of this week. Irwin's All Star Six of Altoona, will furnish music and the light fantastic will be danced until the wee small hours. Cards will be provided for those who do not care to dance. Special cars will be run after the dance to Monessen, Charleroi and Belle Vernon.

Mrs. Harry C. Christ of Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi, received a compound fracture of the right knee cap and bruises of the body yesterday afternoon when an automobile she was driving south in Harwood street, Pittsburgh, crashed into a telegraph pole after the brakes, it is said failed to work. She was removed in a passing automobile to the Southside Hospital where her condition was said to be not serious.

REPUBLICAN IN POLITICS

THE LITTLE FELLOW

A writer in the Summer Session Kansan writes thus pessimistically of the chances the big fellow has in life over the little chap whom nature made short instead of tall and slender.

"As I see a tall, handsome man, broad shouldered and erect, push his way through the crowd, I think how many successful careers depend on looks. See how the crowd parts to let him pass. His appearance carries him triumphantly through life with little effort on his part. What chance is there for a little weakened figure with sallow face and crooked shoulders? His part is to step aside and take the place that's left."

We wonder what kind of "dope" they feed their students out there to put such fool ideas into their silly pates? Keep a little fellow down just because he is not as tall as an old-fashioned back-yard clothes prop May be, in Kansas, and again, may be not, but certainly not in Pennsylvania. Of all the cocksure, obsolutely self-confident 100 per cent certain men we know, the little fellows carry off the biscuit every time. Yea, they go farther and in most cases lug home the bacon as well.

Look over the successful men in your community and see how many are tall and good looking. For every one of that kind you know you will find a score of short or medium-sized fellows who have been tucking away the stocks and bonds and taking up first class mortgages on gilt edge real estate, while the tall, handsome fellows have been worrying how to keep their looks and endeavoring to bluff their way through life on the reputations they made in their young days as lady killers.

May be Napoleon wasn't the original little fellow to make a stir in the world. But he is prominent enough to be a striking example. "The Little Corporal" wasted no time on looks. While the Grand Dukes and Kings and others togged themselves out like walking Christmas trees and stood about where the court attendants could get the benefit of the picturesque scenery they afforded, Napoleon went out and copped their empires. That's the kind of a little fellow he was, and ever since, to the best of our observation, the other little fellows have been getting theirs.

The tall, handsome chap starts off with a handicap. People expect a lot of him and when he fails to show extreme "class" he loses not only the supposed advantage of his looks, but sets himself down as a second rater But the little, unobtrusive man, whom nobody notices particularly, has nothing like that to worry about and one fine day when his old friends read that he has just been elected president of the biggest bank in town they say: "Well, well, of all the luck some folks have," and shake their heads misunderstandingly, but the little fellow knows it was all a case of hustle and he leaves the office to hurry downtown to be measured for a new suit by a tall, handsome tailor's clerk who depends on his looks to hold his job. Don't depend on good looks. Remember what happened to Adonis.

SUGAR SPECULATORS

Sugar dealers are not so happy as they were a few weeks ago. They are learning what happens when you force the price of an article up to an exhorbitant level. The law of Supply and Demand, like the mills of the gods, grind slow, but it grinds exceedingly fine. It is working now, and it is bringing here from all over the world an ample supply of sugar Also beet sugar production has been stimulated, and a large crop is forth coming

Now sugar dealers are begging the government to protect them from the collapse of the speculative structure that has been built up out of the earnings of the people They will not get much sympathy. There would be no tears shed if a lot of the people who have been getting rich should now form the acquaintance of the bankruptcy court.

The people who have made the big profits on such a deal are not usually the ones who suffer when the smash comes. The dealers who are now complaining may have made no great gains, while others who got into the game early, have pocketed their swag and cleaned up Probably the biggest gains were made by Cuban speculators, who long ago got cash for their crop at a most extortionate rate.

The retail trade has been widespread in this game, and is likely to lose money on its sugar transactions But the people who have played the most cautious game will have come out the best

Some who have stocked up heavily, have failed to foresee the results of exhorbitant prices on any staple and must pay the penalty. Now if the law of Supply and Demand can only work with equal remorselessness in the matter of news print, the two greatest price abuses of this period will have been relieved.

Worlds Longesn Highway Dedicated

Denver, Colo. Aug. 25—The world's longest continuous auto scenic highway—4,500 miles—connecting eleven national parks and traversing nine western states, was dedicated here today to all America by Stephen T. Mather, director of National Park Service, and officials of the National Highway Association.

The simple ceremonies consisted of "a world challenge to compete with the enchanting wonders contained in the federal recreational areas," which lure the traveler to snow covered heights The dedication here was marked with the opening of a publicity tour by federal, state and city officials, including Director Mather

The days of old prairie schooner travel were wiped out forever in the caravan of 25 automobiles that carried the official party in comfort in the circle swing that will require 60 days to complete It also heralded a new era in which every man, woman and child in the country is given a share in the hospitality of the great west

The park-to-park highway, laid out by A. L. Westgard, scout for the American Automobile Association, reaches the Rocky Mountain National Park in Colorado, Yellowstone Park in Wyoming, Glacier Park in Montana, Mount Ramer Park in Washington, Crater Lake Park, Oregon; Lassen Volcanic park, Yosemite, General Grant and Roosevelt Parks in California, the Grand Canyon in Arizona and Mesa Verde Park in southwestern Colorado

The ultimate object of the National Park-to-Park Highway association is to prevail upon Congress to furnish a hard surfaced boulevard making easily available to the people America's playgrounds.

Forest Tree Planting Program Planned

Harrisburg, Aug. 25.—To carry out the extensive forest tree planting program planned for this state by Gifford Pinchot, the chief forester, the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry this fall will collect large quantities of seed from native trees. Previously the seed for the department's nurseries was purchased from commercial collectors in this and foreign countries, but the inferior quality and high cost has convinced the Pennsylvania foresters that they can save money and procure better seed in this state.

As this is a year of heavy seed bearing by most of the desirable trees, unusually large quantities of seed will be collected by the foresters. Seed not planted next spring in the four nurseries operated by the department will be held over for planting in the year following, in case it is a lean seed year.

While most of the seed to be collected will grow young forest trees for planting on State and private timber lands, some seed from deciduous trees will produce shade trees for free distribution to cities and boroughs for municipal and educational plantings.

5 Forest Fires Reported This Week

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 25.—Five forest fire hazzards in Derry township, Westmoreland county were reported to the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry this week by State Forester V. M. Bearer, of Ligonier A sail of them were possible sources of extensive forest fires in that locality, the officials of the department have taken steps to have the menaces removed.

According to Forester Bearer three of the hazards exist along the Pennsylvania railroad, between Blairsville intersection and Derry. Another fire danger lay in cutting brush without properly disposing of it while developing a sand quarry and the operation of dinkey engines and a stem shovel in the midst of woodlands constituted a fourth serious menace uncovered by Forester Bearer.

Child Wife Remains True to Husband

When the case of Charles Crawford of Washington, charged with marrying a girl under 16 years of age, was called before Judge J. A. McIlvaine in Washington, yesterday the defendant entered a plea of no defense. This case has attracted considerable attention. Crawford is a man, claimed by some, to be 55 and by others to be about 39, who has resided in that vicinity for several years, and seems to have a good reputation.

On June 23, 1920, he and Alice R. McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. McCoy, of Pancake, ran away and were married in Wellsburg, W. Va. The girl is under 16 years of age and the parents made an information against Crawford, charging him with marrying a girl under 16 years of age without the consent of her parents.

Crawford and his wife returned to Washington about a week after their marriage and he was arrested immediately. The girl refused to return to her home, and her parents had her arrested. The officers of the juvenile court discovered this and took charge of her.

The girl at first refused to return home, but she was finally turned over by the juvenile court officers to her mother, although Mrs. Crawford defended her husband and was bitterly opposed to going home with her mother. It is understood that through the whole case she defended her husband, claiming that he was always good to her and that, even if he is sent to prison, she will wait for him to come out.

When Crawford appeared in court yesterday, his wife walked over and shook hands with him. She then sat down beside him. Her mother attempted to force her to take another seat, but she refused.

The case did not come to trial. After Crawford pleaded, the court postponed sentence until next Monday, and Judge McIlvaine advised all parties to get together and settle their differences by allowing the couple to live together. An investigation will be made by the court and the question of a parole for Crawford will be taken up later.

PICK EMPLOYEES WITH CARE

Modern Business Men No Longer Rely on the "Hit-or-Miss" Method of Selection.

There was a time when picking employees was a hit and-miss job, a trial-and error matter which few employers believed could be corrected. This is the day of doing things right and the modern employer is now selecting his associates, from the office boy to the man highest up, with as much care as he would launch on an entirely new business venture. William Marvin Jackson, director of the Personnel Development service, writes:

"If employees are carefully selected, with an eye to their real adaptability and fitness for the work to be done, it goes without question that they are much more likely to take an interest in their work, and hence the business itself If they are interested, they will get along well with their fellows and co-operate with them superiors. All of which means that they will grow, and there is no satisfaction for the employee greater than that which accompanies the knowledge that he is getting somewhere. Patting him on the back may make him feel good, and paying him a good salary may make him work harder. But giving him a new job and bigger job will alone make him supremely happy, will alone make him work with complete abandon, with thorough-going enthusiasm."
—Forbes Magazine

No Doubt Who Was Boss.

Sometimes it is easy to see, even before a couple is married, just which one is going to be the boss of the household. Recently a big, robust woman stepped into the office of Register of Deeds Adler Johnson. "Is this where I get a license?" she asked.

"What kind of a license?" asked Adler.

"A marriage license," said the woman

"No, we don't handle them," said Adler. "Go to the first door down the hall on your right."

"I knew at first that this wasn't the place," said the big woman, with an air of disgust: "that's what I told Him." Thereupon she stepped into the hall, and when the door opened Adler could see a little man waiting outside.

It was evident that the woman had usurped command and was going to take charge of the marriage license business, not to mention, of course, the honeymoon and all the rest of the alliance.—Fort Scott (Kan.) Tribune.

Australian Rabbits Selling Fast.

Rabbits have been doing great damage in the grazing districts of Australia, and strenuous efforts to eradicate them has resulted in the killing of a vast number of these animals Some 100,000 bodies are now in cold storage awaiting shipment to England The embargo on the export of rabbit skins was removed in December last, and the boom in rabbit-skin prices has proceed remarkable competition in slaughtering the pest. The ruling average price paid to trappers for skins is now $1 82 per pound, and the demand for skins by the United States and European markets is so great that it cannot be satisfied, and it is thought that prices will go still higher. Experienced trappers are making up to $67 per week for the skins alone.

Free Service Offered to 42 Persons

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—The Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, through its Bureau of Rehabilitation, has offered free service to 42 persons in Westmoreland county, who have been permanently disabled in industrial accidents. The figures were announced in a report to Commissioner Clifford B. Connelley by S. S. Riddle, the bureau chief.

Similar assistance has been offered without cost to 798 industrial cripples throughout the state, and 396 of them have registered with the bureau. Twenty of the disabled persons have been placed in schools for various training courses, and the remainder have been helped to positions in industrial establishments for training or in employment for which they are fit.

Artificial legs, arms and hands have been supplied by the Bureau to 61 cripples. Nineteen persons were paid weekly maintenance costs not exceeding $15.00 per week during their training periods.

One young machinist, who lost a hand in an accident is taking a course in mechanical engineering at the expense of the bureau. A laborer, who earned $4.00 a day, lost an arm in a cement block factory. The bureau found employment for him in a plant, operating a glass blowing machine, where he is now earning from $33.00 to $40.00 a week, his income being greater with one good arm than it was with two arms.

A number of cases handled by the bureau are young persons who have been returned to public schools; others are in business colleges, some are learning wireless telegraphy, while still others are in trade and technical institutions.

Improved Roads to be Opened Soon

Barring accidents the work of rebuilding the much needed road between Donora and Monongahela, which has been closed to traffic for the past year and a half, should be completed this week. But 150 feet of the road remain to be finished and there is now plenty of material on hand to complete the job. For some time lately work has been delayed by lack of cement and other materials, but plenty of supplies are now on hand. Barring unforseen delays and with decent weather the road should be open for general traffic not later than Labor Day, September 6th.

At the same time it is gratifying to hear that the road between Charleroi and Bentleyville, which has also been closed all summer, will be completed within a month's time.

Work on the Bentleyville road has now progressed as far as the William Jones' farm and although the contractor is out of cement, the preliminary work on the remainder of the road being done so that when the cement arrives the work can be speedily finished. The contractor promises travel by October 1st at the very latest. About 4,000 feet of concrete is yet to be laid.

YOUNG GIRLS MADE STRONG

Danville, Ill.—"My daughter was very delicate and we thought we could not raise her. She was troubled with irregularity and she was not able to go to school. For a year we gave her all kinds of tonics but no good. One day one of your little books was thrown on our porch and I saw what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and what it might do for her. Now she is getting fat and goes to school every day. You can tell every mother what the Vegetable Compound has done for my daughter."—Mrs. J. H. Boyd, 1002 N. Jackson St., Danville, Ill.

If every girl who suffers as Miss Boyd did, or from irregularities, painful periods, backache, sideache, dragging down pains, inflammation or ulceration could only give this famous root and herb remedy a trial they would soon find relief from such suffering.

For special advice women are asked to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of forty years' experience is at your service.

Marriagable Men Now Are Scarce

Berkeley, Cal., Aug. 24.—Girls, don't spend your youth just getting ready to catch a husband.

This is the advice of Miss Hazel Pratt, Kansas university physical expert, who has just finished drilling hundreds of girls in muscular self-sufficiency in the University of California school.

"Due to the war, and the high cost of living, there are today fewer marriageable men than ever before," says Miss Pratt.

"Many of those young men who would marry find the prospect of supporting a wife too much for their earning ability. They have two alternatives—stay single or marry a girl who can help with the family budget.

"This means that the 'old-fashioned girl,' who has been taught merely to be sweet and attractive, but not how to do anything useful is becoming less desirable.

"The 1920 girl is faced with the battle for life almost as ruthlessly as the 1920 man, and whether she is to be married or single she ought to be turned out of college fit for the struggle.

"Women can never compete with man, muscularly, but she can compete in endurance. Her muscles, while softer, are longer, and she can stand more pain.

"Whether for motherhood or for a professional career or both, women must make their bodies fitter than they have in the past. The future is full of tremendous tests in which women will have to bear their share. The best preparedness is a strong, agile, efficient body."

Germany Benefits From Spa Decision

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Aug. 6—While many industrial chieftains predict calamitous results from the Spa coal agreement, especially in the coming winter, the agreement is bringing Germany certain blessings in disguise.

First, it has stimulated the nation to water power development.

Second, it has shown industrial leaders the need of unified effort, and has forced development of a plan for dividing the nation into "economic districts" for economic use of water, gas and electricity.

Third, it has stimulated national unity more than any event since the war, and is helping give the separist movement in south Germany a serious black eye.

Development of waterpower, particularly in south Germany is no new thought. Keen engineers have been studying this problem for a long time, and have previously taken steps toward utilizing water as a supplement to other power.

But, with signing of the coal agreement in Spa, the nation came face to face with the problem—more power, with less coal. It realized that it was going to have shorter coal rations wirter than before. Hence. the idea of water power development.

The Reichswritschaftrat—a body of the brainiest business men and industrial leaders of Germany—sitting soon after Spa, had before it a resolution which said:

"For relief of the emergency situation, created by coal deliveries to the Ausland, the government will immediately take steps for building up water power as fast as possible and in the best possible manner, especially in South Germany."

A companion resolution called for creation of a committee of experts whose duty it would be to draw the lines for division of the nation into economic units. In these subdivisions a unified system of power, water, gas, electricity supply would be worked out.

As for the third point—stimulation of national unity of spirit—it can be said that the north and the south are realizing that they must pull together if they are to avoid foreign ocucpation of the Ruhr and infinite resultant damage to German business therefrom.

And the miners themselves are hanging the threat of the freezing and starvation over the heads of separatist agirators. Herr Hue, miner leader, has served notice in no uncertain terms that any portion of the country indulging in a separatist movement will be shut off immediately from any further supply of coal.

The nation as a whole is taking the Spa agreement in good spirit, despite many voices which say that it spells industrial stagnation this winter, with the consequent throwing of several hundred thousand workers out of employment. Germany doesn't like the Spa coal agreement; it has been told that it is more than Germany can bear. but insofar as one can now see, the whole country is determined to do its best to fulfill the treaty. Then, it hopes that later the Entente will be ready for more modificaion of the Versailles pact.

An interesting phase of the whole subject is that many observers are inclined to believe that the measures now being taken toward fulfilment of the coal pact, curtailment of coal usage, and utilization of other means of power are forerunners of an earlier socialization of coal and water power than otherwise might have been the case. The coal mines have long since lost their original strictly private character, and stand under considerable government control. But as things now trend. there are signs that actual socialization will be accompanied—and that the day has been moved forward by the Spa conference.

Was Early Home of Baths Town Now Has None at all

(By United Press)

Vrajne, Serbia—There was a time in Vrajne when the people included whatever the Serbian word for bath may be in their everyday vocabularies and not infrequently suited the action to the word, but that was hundreds of years ago. Today it is with difficulty that the envoys of the American Red Cross at Vrajne are searching the past for the practical meaning of the word.

And yet, of all the towns in Serbia, Vrajne is the one which should be most familiar with baths and bathing; for it is the home of the biggest and oldest Turkish bath establishment in the country. The ancient baths were built in the sixteenth century by the Turks themselves, who then ruled the country. They are housed in an ancient stone structure with a red tile roof.

The water, in the days when the baths were operating, flowed into huge vats above primitive underground furnaces from a spring whose crystal stream, now released still bubbles through the vaulted cellars of the ancient establishment. The steam from the vats was led to the hot rooms above through channels cut in the solid rock walls of the building, for in the days when the Vrane baths were constructed there was no such thing as an iron or lead pipe.

Today the Vrajne baths are deserted. Bathing as a ritual of which the city's population has known nothing for generations. The youths of the town are learning the art from the Red Cross workers but the elders still look on the regular ablution of the body as a troublesome superfluity, and the ancient baths of Vrajne may crumble into ruins ere the subterranean steam vats boil and bubble again.

BRYAN ASSAILS COX AND H. S. CUMMINGS

Calls Choice of Democratic Convention Chairman a 'Tragedy' for the Party.

COX CANDIDACY A DISGRACE

His Nomination Would Be an Insult by the Liquor Forces, Nebraskan Asserts.

Special to The New York Times.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 13.—William Jennings Bryan turned his political batteries tonight on Homer S. Cummings, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Governor Cox of Ohio. In a statement given out here he says:

"The selection of Chairman Cummings to sound the keynote of the Democratic National Convention is worse than a comedy. It is a tragedy. It is a melancholy beginning if the Democrats have any intention of making a campaign this year. If the Democratic Party is to be wrapped in a wet shroud, locked up in a Wall Street safe and buried at sea, Cummings is just the person to officiate, but his selection is a serious handicap if the party proposes to appeal to the progressive sentiment of the country."

Mr. Bryan calls the Cox candidacy a disgrace. He says:

"The fact that the Democrats of two dry States, Ohio and Kentucky, have instructed for Governor Cox makes it proper to consider his position on the liquor question. It is becoming every day more and more apparent that he is the man about whose standard the wet forces will gather.

"Governor Edwards is a joke. A drunkard in the last stages of delirium tremens would have sense enough to know that Edwards has no chance of nomination. Senator Hitchcock did not have any chance even before the Nebraska primary, before he had nothing to lose. Governor Cox is their man and he has fairly won the dishonor that he seeks.

"After disgracing his State he aspires to a position in which he could disgrace a nation. For years the men engaged in the liquor business have been the real anarchists of the country, far more dangerous than the professional anarchists. Governor Cox has become their candidate.

"His nomination would make the Democratic Party the leader of the lawless elements of the country and his election, if such a thing were possible, would turn the White House over to those who defy the Government and hold law in contempt.

"There is no likelihood of his nomination and no chance of his election if nominated, but why should any Democrat be willing to support a man whose nomination would insult the conscience of the nation? For the triumph of prohibition is a triumph of the nation's conscience."

A Profitable Investment

Houses not wired for electric service are not in the "all modern improvements" class.

Tenants taboo them as being inconvenient, uneconomical and unfashionable.

Landlords find them hard to rent, difficult to sell and expensive to insure.

Your friends and neighbors who own, buy, sell or rent houses, will substantiate these facts. Eliminate these drawbacks by having your houses wired.

We do the work at moderate cost and on easy terms.
